

Eb3grods

1 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
2 SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

3 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

4 v.

14 Cr. 446 (VEC)

5 EFRAIN RODRIGUEZ,

6 Defendant.

7 -----x
8 New York, N.Y.
9 November 3, 2014
4:30 p.m.

10 Before:

11 HON. VALERIE E. CAPRONI,

12 District Judge

13
14 APPEARANCES

15 PREET BHARARA

16 United States Attorney for the
Southern District of New York

17 PATRICK EGAN

Assistant United States Attorney

18 FEDERAL DEFENDERS OF NEW YORK

19 Attorney for Defendant

20 MARK B. GOMBINER

21 ALSO PRESENT: UMBERTO GARCIA, Spanish Interpreter
22
23
24
25

Eb3grods

1 (Case called)

2 THE DEPUTY CLERK: United States of America v. Efrain
3 Rodriguez with the Spanish interpreter Umberto Garcia.

4 All counsel identify yourselves for the record.

5 MR. EGAN: Patrick Egan for the government.

6 THE COURT: Good afternoon, Mr. Egan.

7 MR. GOMBINER: Mark Gombiner, Federal Defenders for 8 Mr. Rodriguez.

9 THE COURT: Good afternoon, Mr. Gombiner. Good
10 afternoon, Mr. Rodriguez. You can be seated.

11 Mr. Rodriguez, have you and your attorney had an 12 opportunity to read the presentence report? It's dated
13 October 21, 2014.

14 Mr. Gombiner, have you had an opportunity to read it?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

16 MR. GOMBINER: Yes, we did.

17 THE COURT: Has Mr. Rodriguez read it or had it read
18 to him?

19 MR. GOMBINER: Yes, he has, Judge.

20 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

21 THE COURT: Have you had an opportunity to discuss it
22 with each other?

23 MR. GOMBINER: Yes, Judge.

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

25 THE COURT: Are there any objections to the report?

Eb3grods

1 MR. GOMBINER: We don't have any factual objections,
2 Judge.

3 THE COURT: The presentence report will be made part
4 of the record in this matter and placed under seal. If an 5 appeal is taken, counsel on appeal may have access to the 6 sealed report without further application.

7 I have received submissions from both the defense and 8 the government.

9 Mr. Egan, did you file your submission with the Court?

10 MR. EGAN: Yes, I did.

11 THE COURT: Mr. Gombiner, was yours filed as well?

12 MR. GOMBINER: If the procedures were followed, I
13 believe it was, Judge. I hope so.

14 THE COURT: Could you verify that, please.

15 MR. GOMBINER: You mean rather than just filing it on 16 ECF?

17 THE COURT: ECF is fine.

18 MR. GOMBINER: It was filed on ECF, yes. I will 19 verify it was filed on ECF.

20 THE COURT: If it was filed on ECF, you're okay.

21 Let me begin by going through the guideline
22 calculation to make sure that we're all on the same page.

23 The presentence report reflects that there is an
24 adjusted guidelines level of 21 with a Criminal History
25 Category of VI. I find that the correct guidelines calculation

Eb3grods

1 is that we start with a base offense level of 24 and it's 24
2 because Mr. Rodriguez has two prior drug or crimes of violence
3 convictions; there are three levels down for acceptance of 4 responsibility; adding to an adjusted guidelines level of 21.
5 Mr. Rodriguez has ten Criminal History points, which leads to a
6 Criminal History Category VI, and that's a guidelines range of 7 77 to 96 months.

8 Do the parties agree that that is the correct
9 guidelines calculation?

10 Mr. Egan.

11 MR. EGAN: One moment, your Honor. I think if I can 12 have just one second.

13 I believe the PSR calculates the criminal history
14 points as 13 points. The government had initially calculated
15 it as ten. We put a footnote in our sentencing submission
16 based on erroneously I saw a ten-month sentence put in there,
17 and it would have timed out because it wouldn't have been a
18 three-point. But because he was subsequently resentenced to 16
19 months as a violation of probation on that count, it's my 20 understanding that under the guidelines, that then counts as a
21 16-month sentence of imprisonment, and that would then be 22 within the 15-year time period. So I believe that sentence now
23 counts as 13 and the PSR calculated it as that.

24 THE COURT: You're right. My apologies. It's 13
25 criminal history points, Category VI.

Eb3grods

1 MR. EGAN: That's what I have, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Gombiner, do you concur that that is
3 the correct calculation?

4 MR. GOMBINER: As a calculation, it's correct, Judge.

5 THE COURT: Are there any guidelines arguments that 6 the parties wish to advance at this point that weren't
7 precluded by the plea agreement?

8 Mr. Gombiner.

9 MR. GOMBINER: No, we don't have any guidelines
10 arguments.

11 THE COURT: I don't see any grounds for a departure
12 either upward or downward.

13 Are there any factual disputes over issues or facts
14 that are contained in the presentence report?

15 Mr. Gombiner.

16 MR. GOMBINER: We don't have any factual disputes, no.

17 THE COURT: Mr. Egan.

18 MR. EGAN: No, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Does the government wish to be heard on 20 sentence?

21 MR. EGAN: The government will rely primarily on its 22 sentencing submission. As we said in that submission, I think
23 a guidelines sentence is appropriate in this case.

24 The defendant's criminal history speaks for itself.
25 It is extremely extensive. And while the government notes that

Eb3grods

1 certainly the criminal history, the nature of many of those
2 convictions are indicative of a serious substance abuse
3 problem, I think it would be hard looking at the facts of this
4 case to say otherwise; but from the government's point of view,
5 that isn't necessarily a fact in mitigation, that someone with 6 a serious substance abuse problem who is also a prior felon
7 that's in possession of a firearm is certainly a grave danger
8 to the community.

9 He has been given a number of probationary sentences
10 and second chances and third chances, and as a result of all of 11 that, I think a guideline sentence is appropriate in this case.

12 THE COURT: Let me ask you this because I read the 13 government's submission and you refer to him as having an 14 extensive and violent history. I was sort of struck in 15 reviewing the PSR that what he doesn't actually have is much of 16 a history of violence, and actually no history of gun violence.

17 I see, if you look at page five of the PSR, 14 years
18 ago, he had a misdemeanor battery conviction in 2000. Then in 19 2001, he was arrested in possession of a dirk and dagger. I'm 20 not entirely sure what a dirk and dagger is. I know what a 21 dagger is, but I don't know what a dirk is.

22 MR. GOMBINER: I think they're primarily the same
23 thing, Judge.

24 THE COURT: That would seem to be a weapon of some 25 description, although the crime does not include any use of the

Eb3grods

1 weapon. It appears to be just a possession of the weapon.

2 Then the next crime that has any suggestion of 3 violence with it came in 2009 when he has an attempted robbery
4 in the third degree. The description is he attempted to 5 forcibly steal property from a complainant. I'm not entirely
6 clear what that is, but attempted robbery in the third degree
7 suggests maybe something like a purse-snatching or something
8 along those lines.

9 Then the only other indicia of violence in his record
10 is when he was in jail in Santa Clara in 2001 when there was an 11 assault by a prisoner which prosecution was rejected on, so I'm 12 a little unclear on what happened there.

13 Am I missing something in terms of a history of 14 violence in connection with Mr. Rodriguez?

15 MR. EGAN: I was looking through my submission, too.
16 I certainly refer to that he had both violent crimes and drug
17 crimes. I didn't believe, and I could be wrong, that I
18 described him as a serial, violent offender.

19 The crimes of violence, particularly the robbery --
20 there is a burglary on there, but we don't have any facts of 21 that and I don't know how California treats that. I know under 22 New York State law, that is regarded as a violent felony
23 because of the potential for violence that any sort of burglary
24 brings, but we don't have facts on this case.

25 The government would readily concede that particularly

Eb3grods

1 in the realm of people with criminal histories this long, in 2 the grand scheme of things, this is not in the upper echelon of 3 violent offenders that we see. This is mostly a history of 4 drug crimes and theft offenses, and the robbery is even a theft
5 offense, obviously.

6 Whether it is a purse-snatching, we don't know if this
7 ends up as a robbery in the third degree as a result of a plea,
8 but it certainly represents an escalation. If you go from 9 petty larceny, presumably a shoplift or stealing something out
10 of someone's car, something like that, to a robbery, that 11 represents an escalation.

12 I did not mean to and I'm certainly not here
13 representing that Mr. Rodriguez is someone who the government
14 would pound the table and say this is a violent criminal. He 15 has violence on his record, but I agree with the Court's 16 representation as to the extent of that violence.

17 THE COURT: You have indicated the government thinks
18 that a guidelines sentence would be appropriate.

19 Would the government also agree that a sentence below
20 the guideline range in this case might also be appropriate?

21 MR. EGAN: I think there are a number of sentences
22 that could be appropriate. It's the government's position that 23 a guideline sentence would meet the appropriate ends of 24 sentencing, but I certainly wouldn't state that that's the only 25 appropriate sentence.

Eb3grods

1 THE COURT: Thank you.

2 Mr. Gombiner, do you wish to be heard?

3 MR. GOMBINER: Yes. This is a case where it's pretty
4 glaringly apparent from Mr. Rodriguez's criminal record and 5 from the rest of the history set forth in the presentence
6 report and summarized in our letter that basically
7 Mr. Rodriguez has a terrible problem with drugs. And it seemed 8 to have begun -- I can't say it began, but it certainly 9 dramatically escalated when he was quite young when his mother
10 died somewhat suddenly. Obviously, most people's reaction to 11 their mother dying is not to become a drug addict, but 12 unfortunately, in Mr. Rodriguez's case, it is what seems like 13 what happened.

14 As a result, he has spent really his entire life
15 essentially committing, it's not a history of violent crimes.
16 He's committing basically property crimes and low-level drug
17 offenses which are all related to his endemic and pervasive
18 drug use. He's basically been in a cycle of getting arrested 19 for crimes, going to jail, getting out, using more drugs and 20 going back to jail. Unfortunately, probably as a result of 21 that, Mr. Rodriguez is now also HIV positive, so he's got a
22 very serious health issue as well. He's also been taking 23 antidepressants since he's at least been incarcerated.

24 I do have to say that Mr. Rodriguez seems to me to be 25 a much more alert person and more capable of reflecting on

Eb3grods

1 things than he was the day I first encountered him in
2 magistrate court. I think Mr. Rodriguez has benefited in fact
3 from being in a more structured setting. His life was clearly
4 a complete mess on the day he was arrested for this offense.

5 What I think would be the appropriate sentence in this 6 case and one that would serve everyone's interest, not just
7 Mr. Rodriguez', recognizing that he's going to get some time
8 for this, and we're not suggesting he's going to get time
9 served, but I think a sentence that would be less focused on 10 how many years in prison he has to do and more focused on some 11 intensive supervised release, which probation recommended two 12 years. I actually think three years would be more appropriate.
13 And that's the maximum term; that would be a more appropriate
14 term. I think part of that term should include - and I
15 discussed this with Mr. Rodriguez and he agrees with me - a
16 condition of some extended inpatient drug treatment program.

17 It's hard to guarantee any miracles with anything.
18 I've been disappointed before the way some cases have turned 19 out, but I've also been pleasantly surprised the way some cases
20 have turned out. I think this is a situation where a sentence
21 could actually do some good. I don't think he needs anything
22 approaching 77 to 96 months. I think that's far too long,
23 particularly given his health issues.

24 A substantially shorter sentence, that coupled with 25 real terms of supervised release, I think that would achieve

Eb3grods

1 all of the statutory goals of sentencing and that would be in
2 the best interest of Mr. Rodriguez and it would be in the best
3 interest of everyone else, too, so I would urge the Court to 4 impose such a sentence.

5 THE COURT: Thank you.

6 You may or may not be willing to answer this question,
7 but I have a question, and that is, can you tell me why
8 Mr. Rodriguez had a gun that day?

9 He has no gun history. It's an explanation that would 10 be helpful.

11 MR. GOMBINER: I'm not sure even Mr. Rodriguez can 12 tell you all that well. I can't give you really an absolutely 13 complete answer. I think it was sort of an accidental kind of 14 circumstance. He was looking in the windows of cars I think 15 intending to --

16 THE COURT: I assume he was going to break into the 17 car.

18 MR. GOMBINER: Yes. You don't need a gun to do that.
19 Judge, just the whole gestalt that comes through even from the 20 arrest reports in this case and the way that Mr. Rodriguez
21 appeared in court when I saw him suggests someone who was 22 pretty much out of things in general. To hang around that kind 23 of a world, a gun might come into your possession at some 24 point. He wasn't planning to rob a bank or be some hitman for 25 the mob or something like that. It definitely was not anything

Eb3grods

1     like that.

2             I think it was probably just one of the things that
3 happens when you're stumbling around in the world of 4 intoxicants and opiates. I think that's pretty much what it
5 was, but that may not have been the most precise answer, but 6 that's about as good as I can do.

7             THE COURT: Thank you.

8             Mr. Rodriguez, do you wish to be heard?

9             THE DEFENDANT: Yes. May I?

10            THE COURT: You may.

11            THE DEFENDANT: First of all, good afternoon.

12            THE COURT: Good afternoon.

13            THE DEFENDANT: I know I had several problems during 14 my youth, a drug problem. I accept my mistakes, and once I
15 receive my sentence, once I'm released under supervision, I
16 would like to do things the right way and undergo treatment.
17 And that's it.

18            Thank you.

19            THE COURT: Mr. Rodriguez, do you want to get your 20 drug problem under control?

21            THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

22            THE COURT: Do you think you can?

23            THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

24            THE COURT: You have walked away from drug treatment
25 before.

Eb3grods

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Why do you think this time is going to be
3 different?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Because I feel like I've made too many 5 mistakes now in my life. I am 42 years old now, and that makes 6 me want to do positive things in life and change my life;
7 because I found out that I was HIV positive in 2008 and I would
8 like to change my life and be able to see my children once I'm 9 released. Yes.

10 Thank you.

11 THE COURT: The sentencing factors under federal law
12 require me to consider the nature and circumstances of the 13 offense and the history and characteristics of the defendant.

14 The sentence I'm required to impose has to be 15 sufficient but no greater than necessary to reflect the 16 seriousness of the crime, promote respect for law, and provide 17 just punishment for the offense.

18 The sentence should provide both general deterrence to 19 others and a specific deterrence to Mr. Rodriguez. The 20 sentence should also protect society from future crimes from 21 Mr. Rodriguez, but should also provide him with education,
22 medical care, vocational training in the most effective manner.

23 As I think you might have detected from my question to 24 your attorney, I'm still puzzled about why you had a gun
25 because you just had no history of dealing with a gun. And it

Eb3grods

1 worries me that you had a gun because that makes me think that
2 perhaps you were on a trajectory to engage in worse crimes and 3 more violent crimes than you had historically.

4 All of that said, when I'm looking at this case, it
5 seems to me that the defendant, looking at the defendant
6 himself, Mr. Rodriguez as an individual, that his criminal
7 history really overstates the severity of his criminal past. I
8 don't want to minimize the crimes, but the truth is, his 9 history is one that appears to be clearly driven by a drug
10 habit and not some sort of base venality. And one has to 11 wonder that if we had spent more money on drug treatment for 12 Mr. Rodriguez and less on jails, whether, at the age of 42, he 13 would still be addicted to drugs.

14 That said, the crime is serious, but I'm cognizant of 15 the fact that the gun wasn't used and in fact, he made it
16 pretty clear when the police approached him that he had a gun
17 and he turned it over right away to minimize the risk both to 18 him and to the police officers associated with his possession
19 of the gun.

20 It seems clear to me that Mr. Rodriguez's biggest 21 problem is that he is a drug addict. I'm not sure that 22 Mr. Rodriguez really wants to get clean of drugs, but I'm going 23 to accept his representation to me that he does because that's 24 all I can really go on at this point.

25 Probation has recommended a five-year sentence because

Eb3grods

1 of the defendant's very long history of going in and out of
2 jail and committing crimes when he gets out. The probation
3 officer seems to think that a longer time in jail will make a
4 difference, or thinks that even if it doesn't, at a minimum,
5 he'll be free of drugs during that period of time and we won't
6 be suffering from the criminal conduct of Mr. Rodriguez during 7 that period.

8 I think in theory that's right, but I'm still struck
9 by the fact that what Mr. Rodriguez's big problem is is not 10 that he's particularly a criminal, but that he's a drug user,
11 so he needs to get clean of drugs.

12 Taking all of that into account, I'm going to sentence
13 you to the custody of the Attorney General, Mr. Rodriguez, for 14 three years. I think that is long enough for you to get drug
15 treatment in prison. It's long enough for you to maintain a 16 drug-free environment for some period of time. And I'm going
17 to sentence you to the maximum period of supervised release,
18 which is three years.

19 I promise you if you come back in front of me, I don't 20 want to hear that you're having problems staying clean. If you
21 commit to yourself that you're going to remain drug-free, I
22 think you can do it. I have faith that you can do it.

23 I'm going to impose a $100 special assessment and no
24 fine because I find that Mr. Rodriguez has no ability to pay.

25 In terms of the supervised release, I'm going to

Eb3grods

1 impose all of the mandatory conditions. So you can't commit a
2 crime. You can't illegally possess a controlled substance or a
3 gun. I'm not going to require mandatory drug testing because 4 I'm going to order you to participate in inpatient drug 5 treatment. You have to cooperate in the collection of DNA as 6 directed by your probation officer.

7 I'm going to impose as a special condition of your
8 supervised release inpatient drug treatment. You'll be 9 required to contribute to the cost of that in an amount
10 determined by the probation office based on your ability to 11 pay. I'm also going to impose as a special condition mental 12 health treatment in a program as approved by the probation
13 office. I suspect your depression and your drug abuse all
14 interact with each other, so perhaps once you become really
15 drug-free, that will help with your depression as well.

16 As before, as for your drug treatment, the probation
17 officer will determine whether, and to what extent, you're 18 required to contribute to the costs of your mental health
19 treatment.

20 Once you are out of inpatient drug treatment, you will 21 be required to submit your person, residence, place of 22 business, vehicle or other premises under your control to 23 search if the probation officer has reason to believe that 24 contraband or evidence of a violation of the conditions of 25 release can be found. Failure to submit to a search can be

Eb3grods

1 grounds for revocation of your special supervision. If you
2 live with others, you have to inform them of this condition.

3 You'll be required to report to the probation office
4 within 72 hours of your release from prison. I'll recommend 5 that you be supervised in the district of your residence.

6 Are there any open counts, Mr. Egan?

7 MR. EGAN: No, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Rodriguez, you have the right to 9 appeal your sentence. If you're unable to pay the cost of your 10 appeal, you may apply for leave to appeal in forma pauperis.
11 Any notice of appeal, if you haven't waived it, must be filed
12 within 14 days of the judgment of conviction.

13 Mr. Gombiner.

14 MR. GOMBINER: Just one thing. In terms of the 15 inpatient treatment program, maybe if the Court could specify
16 that it should be at least three months in length, because 17 sometimes, they have these 28-day inpatient treatment programs
18 and I'm not sure that's going to work. I think something
19 longer is probably going to be helpful here.

20 THE COURT: Let me ask you this: Do you think he's 21 going to qualify for the Bureau of Prisons' one-year program,
22 is it C-Pop, or is the sentence too short for that?

23 MR. GOMBINER: No, I think it's long enough for that.
24 I'm not sure if the gun is going to be a disqualifying thing.
25 I've been wrong about this before, but this Court could

Eb3grods

1 certainly recommend that.

2 THE COURT: I will recommend it. I will also
3 recommend that the inpatient drug treatment be of at least 4 three months, regardless of whether he participates in the 5 Bureau of Prisons' program.

6 MR. GOMBINER: Thank you. I think that would be 7 helpful.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Egan, nothing else?

9 MR. EGAN: Not from the government.

10 THE COURT: Mr. Gombiner.

11 MR. GOMBINER: No, Judge. Thank you very much.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Rodriguez, good luck. I hope I never 13 see you again.

14 (Adjourned)